Sober elegance, natural materials and inviting spaces set the tone of the hotel. The innovative hotel structure created by DHK in collaboration with Studio Marco Piva is strategically between the Mestre by-pass and the airports of Venice and Treviso, immersed in the countryside. It is characterized by a dynamic arc structure naturally encompassing the surrounding area and with only two floors, thereby reducing the impact on the countryside and existing buildings to a minimum.

The interior design was carried out by the development of a formal continuity between the structure and the surrounding area, with a focus on light colors and natural materials, in harmony with the surrounding green areas, to create a pleasant, welcoming and elegant environment.
