The El Djazair Project is aimed to contribute to the fast growing Hospitality sector in Algeria with a new approach: the creation of an “international community” living in a multifunctional complex rich of facilities and experiences.

The Interior Design proposal from Studio Marco Piva is aimed to bring a new and higher level of attention in terms of spaces and style. The inspiration born from the place, the shapes and colors of Algerian architectures and absolutely stunning landscapes, which comprises both desert, mountains and the sea. The octagon shape, for example, a symbol of Islamic and Algerian culture, is a strong archetype elements throughout the interiors. A new kind of luxury, from the common areas to the private spaces.
