DESIGN PHILOSOPHY

Inside the creative and multicultural heart of Milan, that's where you'll find Studio Marco Piva: an academy of sciences more than an architectural and design firm, an experimental workshop where, with methodological rigor, different design scales are dealt with, from Master Plan to Architecture, from Interior to Industrial Design.

The board of Studio Marco Piva is composed of the co-founders, architects Marco Piva and Sarah Gabaglio, and the founding partners Armando Bruno (CEO) and Daniela Baldo.

The firm is currently composed of a hundred collaborators, all extremely skilled in the various disciplines from Urban Design to Architecture, from Interiors to Product design. They are distributed between the main office in Milan, the second office in Shanghai and the many sites around the world.

The opening of the Chinese office in 2019 has allowed SMP to be able to maintain a more stable presence in the vast Chinese territory, allowing for complex coordination of projects in several cities like Shanghai, Beijing and Chengdu.

Architects, engineers and interior designers, develop projects all over the world starting from research on socio-economic references and on available construction technologies. Projects start with research and ultimately achieve highly realistic graphic rendering, and then go from the building of the prototypes to simulations of efficiency: a breeding ground of creativity from which solutions that have a strong impact emerge.

Architecture, design and interior design are joined in a synchronic process, and the designer becomes the director of a unitary work, guaranteeing continuity and fluidity of language from a stylistic and functional standpoint.

The divisions in which the Studio operates are: Hospitality, Luxury Homes, Heritage, Residential, Urban Design, Mixed Use, Retail, Exhibition.

Assiduous research into the formal and functional aspects of space, updated technology and materials, developed with great attention to the environment, are the foundations of the planning philosophy of the Studio, where the continuity between architecture and interior design plays a strategic role in the success of the Studio's projects.

In such a creative context, multicultural and innovative, Studio Marco Piva develops its activities around the cultural tradition of the project and precise production systems, conceptual and stylistic innovations, tools necessary to face the design process with originality and authenticity.

The attention placed to the requirements of today international life style, creates a focal point to the research and development of the Studios design, which gives birth to new spatial concepts, with fascinating atmospheres and sceneries.

In 2022 was established the Design for Life division, an area of the Studio dedicated to the development of solidarity projects.
